

WE ARE STRONGER
TOGETHER.
WE ARE CAPABLE OF RADICAL LOVE.
ISOLATED ACTS WILL NOT SAVE US.
COMMUNITY WILL.

Say yes to that invitation
you always say no to.

Start a book club.

Talk about hard things
with strangers.

Keep showing up for one another.

Roll that boulder on up
the hill, one more time,
together.

CHOOSE COMMUNITY

a manifesto
for saving
the world

by Cassey Lottman

I am seeing the wisdom
in things I once doubted, and the folly in things I once felt sure of.
One thing I know for sure: we cannot solve
the many problems we
face as individuals.
Systemic problems call
for systemic action.
We need each other, in ways big and small.

LET THIS RADICALIZE YOU RATHER THAN LEAD YOU TO DESPAIR.

Hello, my friend.

Have a seat.

Can I offer you a drink?

It may not seem like much,
but it is what I have to offer.

It has been such a long winter, and I missed you so.

There are many hard
truths that so many of us are waking up to. Truths that so many others have known in their bones, that their ancestors knew.
Many of us have not had
the luxury of ignoring injustice. Fewer of us
every day can ignore it.

I've been lonely, you see,
and I've been scared.

There is so much to fear. So much to grieve. Sometimes it feels like it's not safe to be together and sometimes it's because that's true.
